BAXI

Free renewable energy seminars – dates for your diary

As part of its commitment to addressing the problems of climate change, UK boiler manufacturer Baxi is holding a series of free-of-charge seminars to inform domestic heating engineers, house builders and housing providers about renewable energy.

At the first seminar, at the Lowry Hotel, Manchester on 13 June 2007, the guest speaker will be Richard Bawden of the Energy Saving Trust, who will talk about climate change. He will be followed by an outline of heating specific legislation and the Government's Standard Assessment Procedure for the energy rating of dwellings (SAP).

In the afternoon there will be workshop sessions to look at Micro CHP, solar, heat pumps and Biomass.

Dr Richard Dixon of WWF Scotland, will address the Edinburgh seminar, at the Balmoral Hotel on 10 July 2007.

To book your place at one of the seminars please email your details to enquiries@baxi.co.uk or telephone 08706 060623.
